

Networking event greets members

IT was a chance for workers and representatives of welfare and community groups in Caboolture to put a name to a face on Thursday.

The new community group Campbell Page held a get-together and morning tea for the groups at its new headquarters at Suites 27, 28 and 38 in the Lakes Centre.

Representatives from the Cadet group, Sarina Russo, Open Minds, Caboolture Family Haven, Caboolture Community Action Group and various other community groups attended.

Campbell Page community connections officer Maggie Huxley said she organised the get-together, so that all groups would be aware of what Campbell Page was about.

It delivers employment, rehabilitation and community services to disadvantaged people in the community.

ABOVE: Campbell Page facilitator Jade Hand and Community Connections officer Maggie Huxley.

*Photo: Megan Mackander/
c154122*

ABOVE: Sarina Russo's Renee Tregenza, Cadet Group Australia's Micheala Norris, Jumpstart's Menny Monaha and Sarina Russo's Kim Watson.

Photo: c15412a

RIGHT: Co-ordinator of Cadet Group Australia Malcolm Thomson and Gambling Help Services co-ordinator David Robinson.

Photo: c15412b

